HONORED KENTUCKIAN

General William L. Marshall a Big Man in Public Life

Mason county people in general were glad to learn of the honor that recently came to one of her native sons, General William L. Marshall, the new Chief of Engineers in the United States Army.

The Louisville Times Washington Correspondent pays the following compliment to this distinguished man—

"Kentucky never had a bigger man in public life, perhaps, than General William L. Marshall, who has just been appointed Chief of Engineers to succeed General A. McKenzie, retired. It is perfectly proper to say that there are several pounds difference between the weight of General Marshall and Judge

Taft and the difference is not in favor of the latter, either.

"General Marshall was born down in the Bluegrass in 1846. When sixteen years of age he enlisted in the Tenth Kentucky Volunteers (Union), and served several months with credit. He was then appointed to West Point and graduated at the head of his class in 1868. He was assigned to the Corps of Engineers, which billet is given the five Cadets who lead the balance of their class. In 1907 he reached the grade of Colonel. His appointment to be Chief of Engineers carries with it the grade of Brigadier.

"General Marshall has served as Instructor at West Point and led several exploring expeditions in the then far West. He discovered gold in the celebrated San Miguel basin, in California, now called Marshall basin in his honor, and discovered the Marshall Pass through the Rockies.

THE QUALITY GROCERS, MASONIC TEMPLE BUILDING

"Among the engineering operations to his credit are levees on the Mississippi; the Hennepin Canal, of which he was the Chief Engineer; Improvement of Lake Michigan harbors and of the harbor at New York, on which work he is now engaged. General Marshall is enamored of the latter work and he accepted promotion to Chief of Engineers on condition that he should be allowed to spend Friday and Saturday of each week in New York, superintending the deepening and widening of Ambrose channel, which he proposes to give a depth of forty feet and a width of 1,000 feet.

"President Roosevelt came near to driving General Marshall out of the Army by that order which directed that all officers who were not able to take the horsemanship test should be retired. Colonel Marshall prepared to send in his resignation, and would have done so had not the President been induced to modify the order so as to allow officers physically unqualified to ride horseback to be assigned to work where riding would not be necessary."

Irish potatoes bid fair to be the money-producing crop which will take the place of tobacco in the Bluegrass region. It is estimated that 50,000 acres of the rich soil have been planted in potatoes this year as compared with 15,000 acres in the preceding year. Until last season potatoes had been considered only a garden crop, being limited generally to the needs of the family of the producer.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

A Cavalcade of Horsemen on the Warpath Last Night

A gentleman from this city, who was called to the country last night, had an experience that for a time caused his hair to project like the quills of a porcupine.

A short distance this side of Murphysville, in a lonely spot where the umbrageous foliage reflected phantom figures on the pike, he ran into a cavalcade of mounted horsemen all drawn up in military array on each side of the pike.

The silent riders of the night did not attempt to interfere with his travel and the town man did not stop to ask questions as to the assemblage of the clan or whither bound.

Further on he confronted four men sitting on the porch at Prather's store well armed with guns and who had the appearance of expecting something momentous to happen.

Inquiry this morning by a representative of THE LEDGER failed to dig up anything of a sensational happening in the county other than that detailed above.

Police Court.

Judge Whitaker had a full house when the Officer rapped for order in the Police Court yesterday afternoon. It was a morbid gathering, however, with an appetite for salacious tid-bits and morsels of scandal and no doubt great was the disappointment when the fair defendants plead guilty to a disorderly charge and thereby saved themselves from exposing their naughty conduct of the night previous at the L. and N. Depot.

Onie Lauderback, Julia Fryman, William Paul and another young man plead guilty to disorderly conduct charge and were assessed $10.50 each for their fun.

Leah Gill of the East End, for whipping his patient wife, was given $15.50, a very small penalty considering the offense.

In default of liquidation they were sent to Jail, where they will get three square meals a day for the next ten days at the expense of taxpayers.

The White Sale Reigns

To view the stock of Muslin Underwear here you wouldn't think a week's busy selling has been credited to this sale. The range of prices is intact and the choice of styles unimpaired. The past week has proved several interesting things about this sale:

FIRST—It's the largest movement of the sort in Maysville, in point of space denoted to it.

SECOND—It presents the best variety of new and tasteful designs in garments, embroidery and lace.

THIRD—It offers the best values at any price you may choose for comparison.

Broad, sweeping statements—don't think them brag and bluster—the garments themselves and your own judgment of values will confirm our assertions.

Here is the bulletin-board of the sale. For convincing details see the stock.

Combination Garments $1.98 to $4.
Corset Covers 12½c to $3.
Nightgowns 50c to $4.
Chemise 59c to $3.
Drawers 25c to $3.
Skirts 98c to $7½.

SKIRT NEWS

Handsome black silk petticoats, made for us during the manufacturer's dull season—hence qualities of extraordinary value for $3.98. A special feature is the fitted top, which is a welcome point in this day of tight dress skirts. The flounce is a deep sectional one trimmed in strap bands. A double under ruffle for dust and wear protection is another good point. If you are interested in rare skirt values, investigate.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM H. TAFT,
of Ohio.FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,
JAMES S. SHERMAN,
of New York.FOR CONGRESS,
Hon. JOSEPH B. BENNETT.

"If You Can't Be Good, Be Careful," is the newest song hit. If you can't be careful you're a bad boy.

If there was an Olympian talking match, WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN would walk off loaded down with a carload of palms.

REPUBLICANS of Kentucky are presenting a united front for TAFT and will make the coming campaign a warm one. Senator BRADLEY and Governor WILLSON will stump the State for TAFT.

CHAUNCEY DEPEW looks like 30 cents compared with this year's Georgia peach crop. It will require 7,000 freight cars to pull the peaches out of Georgia this year. Besides, she'll have 10,000 carloads of watermelons.

This gush about the evil of contributions to campaign funds makes us weary. The money may be wrongfully used, and doubtless is in some cases, but there has not been a time when both parties did not raise all the funds they could. There is an old story about the pot calling the kettle black.—Winchester Sun-Sentinel.

A DISPATCH says that bad blood prevails in Central American Republics. Are there no other places where bad blood prevails?

CHAIRMAN FRANK H. HITCHCOCK of the Republican National Committee is no bloviator, and in reply to a question asked him as to the success of his party in November says:

"I have determined not to make any predictions at any time. That will be my policy throughout the campaign. We won't neglect any territory where there is a bare chance of victory, either North, South, East or West, but I shall not indulge in forecasts."

The people are suspicious of the Greeks bearing gifts. They have no confidence in Republican declarations. They have been fooled too often.—Frankfort State Journal.

And the people are also a little suspicious of the Democratic party because it has been beaten so many times. BRYAN is the boss political bunko artist of the age. If you can't take our word for it, ask WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST or THOMAS E. WATSON.

GROVER CLEVELAND's memory crys out against the cruel treatment accorded him by the Democratic Convention at Denver. The resolutions eulogizing Mr. CLEVELAND were of the staid and perfunctory variety and not at all in harmony with the great and exalted character who was recognized as the incarnation of the spirit of the law. It is an insult to compare any other living Democrat with Grover CLEVELAND.

HE HAD BROKEN SOMETHING.

Success Magazine.

Mrs. Wilson had a young Japanese servant who had a habit of trying to conceal from his mistress any breaking of dishes of which he chanced to be guilty. The good lady explained that it was wicked to deceive, and directed the Japanese to tell her whenever he broke anything. The boy promised to do as she advised. One day, while Mrs. Wilson was entertaining some friends in the parlor, the Japanese suddenly appeared in the doorway. His teeth were bared in a childlike smile and his eyes sparkled with the light of conscious virtue.

"Meesa Wirson, you ter-ra me, when break somesing to ter-ra you. I break my pants!"

THE WOMAN WITH THE EYES

To-day she is a leader in society by right of her late husband's name and wealth, her youth, her beauty, and her sorrow. Perhaps she may marry again, and the man of her choice will be happy. Perhaps right now—who shall say?

Where she came from nobody knew. It was said Dorrick met her at a summer resort, and that was all anyone seemed to know about her. He married her for her beauty; she married him for his money and social position. I suppose both thoroughly understood the terms of the contract. He admired her much as he might have admired a fine horse, and he was proud to claim her as his own. She didn't actually hate him—he was an unfortunate encumbrance of wealth and social position. But she bore him no love.

Perhaps the last straw that broke down her endurance was when Dorrick came home drunk from some club meeting. Dorrick was not a drinking man, and this was an exceptional case. Perhaps he had been drinking too many toasts to his young wife. But it was an offense against good form—the only thing she cared about now. When Dorrick ceased to be a gentleman the last link broke.

"My dear," he began, and then he stopped short, for he had caught her glance. She had peculiar eyes sometimes—hard, cold, penetrating eyes—glint eyes, an irreverent youth had once called them. Dorrick seemed to shrink up within himself beneath her gaze. Half drunk as he was, he seemed in some way fascinated—"like as if he'd been mesmerized," said Mrs. Dorrick's maid under her breath; she had been to see a professional hypnotist who had been performing at one of the music halls a few weeks before. Mrs. Dorrick overheard the remark, and it set her thinking.

The suggestion of mesmerism broke in upon her like a revelation; perhaps she had found the key to freedom. She had heard of this marvelous force that science but dimly comprehends, and she was prepared to believe wonders of it. Forthwith she set about studying it. Little by little, as she mastered the subject, she came to understand how complete is the control exercised by the mesmerist over his subjects and found that she herself possessed marked powers of fascination. Then she began to try experiments with her husband. She had no definite end in view. She wanted to gain such mastery over him as to make him entirely subservient to her will. Then she would no longer be galled by the sense that she was part of his property.

In a month she succeeded. The outward world saw no change in Dorrick or his household; but in the privacy of his home he was a different man. A single glance from his wife bereft him of will power, almost of consciousness. He was no longer a living, thinking man, but an automaton, performing her will blindly, and without the power of retaining even a shadow of remembrance if she willed he should forget. She was far too clever to let outsiders see this—even the servants never suspected it. She herself hardly knew how far-reaching was her strange power. But she had gained her point.

She began tentatively. Dorrick developed a habit of dressing a little too lightly for the season of the year, and caught cold several times. His wife scolded him for his carelessness, but to no purpose. Little by little he became more careless. He neglected to see a doctor, after catching a very severe cold, though he had been in the habit of taking the utmost care of his health. Again his wife scolded him, and sent for the doctor herself. Dorrick recovered slowly, but the effects of a severe chill had left him weaker. Then he committed the crowning imprudence of taking a cold bath in the middle of January and neglecting to dry himself thoroughly. Mrs. Dorrick scolded again, and again summoned the doctor. The doctor was angry, and took Dorrick to task sharply for his carelessness. "It's simple suicide," he said, "simple suicide!" And he left directions for Mrs. Dorrick and drove away.

He was right; he could do no good. Dorrick had thrown away his life. In about a week he fell a victim to pneumonia, and Mrs. Dorrick was free.

Mrs. Dorrick, the bride of scarce six months, mourned deeply for her husband, and inherited his wealth. Perhaps there was just a little genuineness in her sorrow; a tinge of remorse—no more. As I said, to-day she is a leader in society by right of her late husband's name and wealth, her youth her beauty, and her sorrow. Perhaps she may marry again; this time she will not sell herself—she will not need to. And the man of her choice will be accounted happy, for no one knows of her terrible gift. Perhaps, too, rightly so accounted. Who shall say?

Perfumes Recommended.

Doctors' recommendations have contributed to the popularity of certain scents. The use of the scent is becoming really widespread, asserts a dealer in perfumes. "The doctors have pronounced in its favor," this man says, "and have recommended those of their patients who are particularly prone to catching such complaints as influenza to use scent copiously, principally by means of the spray. The odor that is most in demand is appropriately that of wood violets, springlike and refreshing."

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Martin entertained with an elegant six o'clock dinner Friday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Hart Robinson, the bride and groom of last week. The beauty of Mr. and Mrs. Martin's home, always artistic and hospitable, was further enhanced by pretty floral decorations which harmonized superbly with the handsome toilettes of the ladies. Great bunches of white carnations and ferns ornamented with charming effect the center of the dining table, and prettily shaded lights were used with striking effect in the decorative scheme.

MOVED HIS TOBACCO

Theodore Kirk Uses Ohio Teams to Take Away His Crop

A special from Augusta says Theodore H. Kirk, the Cincinnati tobacco buyer, accompanied by two large teams and wagons, with the necessary help, reached Bracken county Monday morning from Cincinnati and proceeded to the Kirk farm at Chatham.

Mr. Kirk had about 10,000 pounds of tobacco stored there in the barn of John D. McKibben. The tobacco was loaded on the drags and hauled to Augusta, where it was loaded on the Courier and shipped to Cincinnati.

Mr. Kirk tried to get teams and help in Bracken county some time ago to move the tobacco, but could not, and it was necessary to bring the teams from Cincinnati.

The farmers are indignant at the action of Mr. Kirk, claiming that the tobacco had been signed up, as they say he telegraphed the District Board at Winchester at the beginning of the pooling movement that he would pool 250,000 pounds of tobacco.

The tobacco was raised by Charles Bolter, who signed up his half of the crop.

RELIEF FOR GROWERS

Is Proposed in Franklin County and Novel Plan is Outlined

FRANKFORT, KY., July 21st.—The Board of Control of Franklin County has adopted a system by which the small grower, if in need, will be permitted to sell his tobacco.

The sale, however, must be to some grower who is a member of the Burley Tobacco Society or to some buyer who will agree to keep it in the pool.

How to Cure Indigestion

Well Known Family Physician Gives Good Advice

"When a person cannot eat ordinary food without discomfort afterward, when he has heartburn, sick headache, gas on the stomach, water brash, belches up sour food, and this condition has continued for a week or more, it certainly is time to do something and do it quickly. That's what a popular physician recently said to the writer. 'First thing you know you'll have dyspepsia if you don't,' said he.

The quickest and best way to regain your normal condition is to step into the drug store and buy a 50c bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It gives natural, daily movements to the bowels, and that is usually where more than half the trouble lies. Then it aids digestion, sweetens the stomach, acts on the liver and is a general system tonic.

Postmaster Ridgill, of Bruceville, Tex., had such a severe attack of dyspepsia that his stomach, liver and bowels seemed almost paralyzed, but a few doses of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin relieved him and today he is well as ever. Maude Hall, Alpena, Mich., says that one bottle cured her of a very severe case of indigestion. A. L. Espley, Chief of Police, New Philadelphia, Ohio, says: "I find Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin the best remedy for indigestion I ever used. I would not be without it." Rev. A. J. Fletcher, Rutherford, Tenn., is now 80, and yet it cured him of stomach trouble of 60 years' standing. Mrs. Mattie Crouch, Tiptonville, Tenn., cured her five months' old baby of indigestion with it, so you see that while it is so effective it will cure cases of long standing of dyspepsia and constipation in old people. It is perfectly safe for babies, and it is pleasant to take, and does not pain or gripe.

All druggists sell it at 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Pepsin Syrup Co., 307 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill., are glad to send a free sample to any one who has not used it and will give it a fair trial. Sold by J. J. Wood & Son, Druggists

Good Summer Tonic

Most people at this time of the year need a good general system tonic. Even those who take the very best care of themselves find that they are obliged in the hot weather to tone up the system. You may not feel the need of it this week, but you will before long; but whether you do now or not remember that PECOR'S ORANGE FLUORIO is the best of all known SYSTEM TONICS. It acts through the blood on every part of the system, reviving and stimulating it to new life and injecting the whole body full of energy. JUST WHAT YOU NEED. Only 50 cents per bottle.

THE NORTHWESTERN MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Not only sells the BEST and BROADEST contract, but returns LARGER dividends and therefore insures at a LOW net cost. The new 1908 policy of THE NORTHWESTERN is a marvel of completeness. It covers as many of life's contingencies, probable or possible, as can be met by money. It is like a will, except that it provides the estate that it distributes. It contains large Loan and Cash values. It provides Automatic Paid-up or Extended Insurance, and for Reinstatement at any time within FIVE YEARS after lapse.

NO OTHER company offers as many or as varied OPTIONS of Settlement, under ANY of ALL of its policies combined, as THE NORTHWESTERN offers under its ONE policy.

ROOF BEAUTY

Shall your roof be attractive, or just negatively in-offensive?

Zolium, on the roof, has a rich, positive beauty of its own, which, without dominating it, completes and crowns the whole architectural scheme of the building.

The color (a warm Indian red) stands out in sharp yet harmonious contrast to the natural landscape tones, giving the strong note of color needed to indicate the essential importance of house to surroundings.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. NO NEGRO

School Trustees Under New Democratic Law

FRANKFORT, KY., July 20th.—The enactment of the new County Board Bill, which will completely change the selection of School Trustees for Kentucky, has aroused many of the Negro citizens to resentment because it robs the Negro of the honor of being a School Trustee.

In a supplement to Bulletin 4 State Superintendent of Schools Crabbe issues an ultimatum to the Negro and asks whether the Negro will accept a white Trusteeship to govern their schools or force upon the members of their race the old system of three Trustees.

KENTUCKY FAIR DATES.

TESTED AND PROVEN
There is a Heap of Solace in Being Able to Depend Upon a Well-Earned Reputation.

For months Maysville readers have seen the constant expression of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills, and read about the good work they have done in this locality. Not another remedy ever produced such convincing proof of merit.

Mrs. John E. Burns, living in the Western part of Maysville, Ky., says:
"I value Doan's Kidney Pills just as highly today as when I gave a statement in their favor some years ago. Prior to their use I was subject to frequent attacks of kidney trouble. At times the pain in my back was so acute that I was rendered almost helpless and confined to my bed for days at a time. The quick and decided relief I obtained from Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at J. J. Wood & Son's Drugstore, was very gratifying, and during the years which have elapsed I have had no serious return of kidney trouble. On some occasions I have felt a slight backache, but a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills have never failed to ward off any serious trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
